The European Parliament stands for European democracy.

together.eu, launched by the European Parliament's DG Communication, is a community of citizens, civil society groups and organisations that believe in the value of democracy and by extension in the importance of voting, particularly as the next European elections approach.

together.eu connects people both locally and across Europe to meet, share knowledge and learn new skills, so that they are equipped to bring our message to the communities around us.

Today this vibrant, connected and growing community is working to further European democracy.

together.eu: what is it?

- A pan-European community that encourages everybody to participate in democracy
- A community where people from across Europe meet, get active for democracy together, share knowledge and learn new skills

A get out the vote tool for the European elections 2024

In the run-up to the European elections in 2024, together.eu has a very specific and central task: Bringing on board as many people as possible to help get out the vote for the next European elections.

together.eu is designed as an effective civic activation tool - not only to grow the community and find new members, but to create momentum across the EU to stimulate and drive citizens to go and vote on the election days.

The European Parliament would therefore like to invite you to help in this endeavour by helping promote this project and encourage others to vote in 2024 - because the more people vote, the stronger our democracy becomes.
