

War, for example, shows the seeds of discord and misery between the nations

Each day, even in economically and politically developed societies, many children live under poor conditions and they are obliged to work.

Sometimes, even though some kids have officially secured equal education and opportunities, they become victims of racism from their peers.

We are very lucky being able to go to school! Sure, we have to appreciate some of the things we have

Don't forget to keep your promises and assert your rights. You are students with critical thinking and future active citizens.
