1. Please explain the context of youth participation in your country (legislation, structures)

One of the principles that is defined in the Law on Youth Policy Framework is participation. This principle means that youth-related issues are solved with the participation of young people and by co-ordinating them with youth or representatives of youth organisations. Practically this principle is very well implemented. Youth interests mostly are represented by the Council of Lithuanian Youth Organizations. Also every youth organisation has a chance to be represented while having it's representative in the Council of Youth Affairs. This body is an advisory body for the Department of Youth Affairs under the Ministry of Social Security and Labour. There are 12 representatives in this Council, 6 coming from Ministries and 6 being representatives of youth organizations. The Council of Youth Affairs is convened every 2 years.

2. Structures of participation at the local regional or national level.

2.1 Youth councils

2.1.1 National youth councils

- The Council of Lithuanian Youth Organisations (LiJOT) is a self-dependent, voluntary union of non-governmental youth organisations and regional unions of youth organisations. Main aims: promote youth initiative; promote youth mutual understanding and co-operation; promote activities useful and constructive for the state and society; represent youth interests towards the Lithuanian governmental institutions. Activities: representation of interests; realization of Lithuanian State Youth Policy Concept; training of youth leaders; development of international relations; providing youth with information.
- National Union of Student Representations of Lithuania (LSAS) is a national, democratic, independent, non-profit union of public organizations uniting the student representations of Lithuanian higher education institutions.

2.1.2 Regional youth councils

There are regional youth councils in municipalities. The councils are usually named as Round Table and they are associations of youth organisations at municipal level. At the moment those organisations are established in 25 municipalities. Main activities: involve young people into the organizations and their work; work with members of Round Tables and volunteers; train youth organizations and the organizations working with youth, and also for the young people; develop cooperation among youth organizations and the organizations working with young people; foster exchange of information and experience and involvement into activities of the regional councils of youth organizations.

2.1.3 Local youth councils

The Municipality councils for youth affairs are formed on the principle of parity by the members of municipality council, administration servants, and youth (organizations) representatives. Local youth councils are open for young people who do not necessarily need to be active in local youth organizations. The Municipality council is an agency with an advisory vote; its long term goal is to ensure youth participation in topical decision making processes. Youth representatives in the councils have an opportunity to represent youth demands, compare youth interest with the interests of the entire community, better understand democratic decision-making and implementation procedures. At the moment those municipality councils are established in 46 municipalities (out of 60).

2.2 Youth parliaments: Please list youth parliaments on national, regional and local level (if applicable)

No youth parliaments.

3. Participation in representative democracy

3.1 Number and percentage of young people who are members of a political party or political youth organisations, if possible by gender

Information not available

3.2 Number and percentage of young people who are members of a trade union

Information not available

3.3 Percentage of young people (in total and by gender) who are members of a youth non-governmental organisation, which are not trade unions, political parties or political youth organisations. If possible give information about the type of organisations.

According to the research, that was held by the Department of Youth Affairs under the Ministry of Social Security and Labour in 2007, 25% of youth are participating in any organizations in Lithuania (this number includes political youth organizations).

4. Explain the existing support measures, of national, regional or local scope, to promote the participation of young people in local life and follow-up mechanisms

4.1 Financial actions to support the various structures for youth political and NGO participation

There are various programs, which help youth organisations to get money for maintaining organisation, its structure and helping to involve more and more people.

The Department of Youth Affairs under the Ministry of Social Security and Labour calls for applications once a year. Funding is made upon successful applications. Total amount in 2008 was 695 088 euros.

Each Lithuanian municipality has a fund for funding Youth activities. Usually funding is made upon successful applications.

4.2 Which financial actions on national level aimed at certain specific groups of young people exist?

The Department of Youth Affairs under the Ministry of Social Security and Labour is coordinating Lithuanian – Poland Youth Exchange Fund, which financed 31 projects (about 200 Euros). This Fund finances the exchanges among Lithuania's and Poland's youth, other activities of them. The main idea is that all these activities must strengthen the cultural dialogue of these countries.

The Department of National Minorities and Lithuanians Living Abroad to the Government of the Republic of Lithuania is financing various projects. One of the key issues of these projects is promotion of activities of children and youth of national minorities.

Lithuanian Labour Exchange at the Ministry of Social Security and Labour is working with unemployed people. One of the groups is young people up to 25 years old. This institution suggests measure of “new start” – it is suggested new employment possibilities for every new registered young unemployed person, that starts to work under gained occupation.

8. Learning to participate

8.1 Please list existing actions and mechanisms within the systems of formal education aiming at developing and deepening learning to participate (citizen s'education). Please also list related guidelines and teacher training programmes aiming at integrating citizen's education into the curriculum.

Young pupils have a possibility to take part in students' self-government bodies. According to the law, each school should make facilities for students to have their self-government organ. The school council or university self-government organ should involve an equal number of students/students representatives, their parents and educators. The school council activities can also be attended by a representative of the local authorities. Each school should have these students' self-government organs operating: students' conference (which is summoned once a year and delegates representatives to the school and students councils) and the students' council. The students' council is a continuously operating students' self-government organ of 5-15 members; its structure and work rules are defined by students' conference.

8.2 In which fields, other than formal education, do actions and/or support - of national or regional scope- exist, which aim at promoting learning to participate amongst young people? What is the nature of these actions/this support? Give examples of good practise.

Ministries, departments, municipalities and other state institutions are organising various types of programmes for non-governmental organisations, including youth NGO's. If the applications are valued positively, then those organisations get financial support for implementation of them. All these projects promote any kind of participation among young people.

8.3 Do some of the existing or planned actions aim at certain specific groups of young people?

Most of these programs are directed to youth (as it defines the Law on Youth Policy Framework, young person is anybody aged between 14 to 29 years) and the priority of these programs is young people with fewer opportunities.

9. Describe other, informal ways young people choose to participate in your country.
