“Mobility Spaces, Learning Spaces - Linking Policy, Research and Practice” is the title of the first conference of the European Platform on Learning Mobility in the Youth Field taking place from 20 – 22 of March 2013 in Berlin, Germany. The conference will be hosted by the German and Hungarian National Agencies for the European programme YOUTH IN ACTION and the German Research-Practice-Dialogue on International Youth Work, in cooperation with the German Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth and the Partnership between the European Commission and the Council of Europe in the field of youth.

Learning Mobility in the Youth Field is a key issue of current developments in the area of non-formal learning and debates around active citizenship, intercultural learning, employability, and the implementation of the new EU-programme currently titled “Erasmus for All”.

This conference will be a starting point for a sustainable dialogue, it will link the different perspectives policy, research and practice, and examine the implications for the field.

Participants include European policy makers, researchers, practitioners, institutions and organisations in the youth field working on the topic of Learning Mobility.

If you are interested in contributing or attending, we invite you to e-mail us or follow the regularly updated conference website (online from autumn 2012 on).

The European Platform on Learning Mobility in the Youth Field is guided by a Steering Group with representatives of the following organisations:
