1. Context of youth work

Youth work in Malta had its antecedents in the work of the Catholic Church and its voluntary organisations such as the Society of Christian Doctrine, Catholic Action and the Salesians, all established in Malta at the beginning of the 20th century. The British presence brought about the Malta Scout Association, which applied for membership of the British Scout Movement in 1908. Following on the gaining of independence in 1964, the Maltese Catholic Scout Association became a member of the World Scout Conference in 1966. The Girl Guides were established in 1923 and proved to be one of the most active and widespread voluntary organisations in Malta.

Up until the 1990s, youth work in Malta was the preserve of the voluntary sector with the state playing little or no role. However, the decade was to usher in a number of significant changes in the state’s attitude to youth work.

In 1992, the University of Malta established an Institute of Youth Studies (now the Department of Youth and Community Studies) to provide training for those who wished to pursue a professional career as youth and community workers. The first group of graduate students founded the Maltese Association of Youth Workers (MAY) in 1998, which subsequently published a code of ethics for youth workers in 2001. Following on a national youth conference, the first of its kind in Malta, the National Youth Council was established in 1992.

In 1993, a new Ministry for Youth and Arts was established and published the first document on youth policy. Malta’s first National Youth Policy (1993) was followed by others in 1999, 2004 and 2010.

Malta’s accession to the European Union in 2004 was to have significant consequences for youth work. Membership of the European Union provided youth work with new sources of funding, through Youth in Action, as well as a new and expanded policy horizon, through the Youth Working Party and the Council of Youth Ministers. The momentum generated at both national and European level culminated in the establishment in 2010 of Aġenzija Żgħażagħ, the National Youth Agency, which opened a new chapter in the history of youth work in Malta.

2. Strategic and legislative framework of youth work

The national youth policy Towards 2020 – A shared vision for the future of young people, which focuses on all 13 to 30 year olds, and which is being implemented by Aġenzija Żgħażagħ over the period 2015-2020, has two related aims:

- to effectively support and encourage young individuals in fulfilling their potential and aspirations while addressing their needs and concerns; and
- to effectively support young people as active and responsible citizens who fully participate in and contribute to the social, economic and cultural life of the nation and Europe.

The policy is being implemented through two specific but interdependent strategies that complement the two policy aims. Each of the two strategies has a number of designated Action Plans under which specific actions are being undertaken and implemented over the six-year timeframe 2015-2020.

- Strategy 1 – Youth work and services for young people
  - Action Plan – New spaces at local community level for young people and youth organisations
  - Action Plan – Awareness raising, listening to and supporting the voice of young people
  - Action Plan – Initiatives for the active engagement, empowerment and participation of young people and youth organisations

- Strategy 2 – Cross-sectoral supports for young people
  - Action Plan – Education and training
  - Action Plan – Health and well-being
  - Action Plan – Employment and entrepreneurship
  - Action Plan – Arts and culture
  - Action Plan – Social inclusion
  - Action Plan – Voluntary and community activities
  - Action Plan – Sport and recreational activities

Resources and support are also being further developed and expanded with the twin objective of building the human and physical capacities of the youth sector, including the voluntary youth sector, and providing it with the skills and competences to support the development of young people.

The policy also includes a research programme that will help ensure that it continues to be both evidence-based and outcome-focused.

The implementation of the policy is being monitored on an annual basis and at the end of the period 2015-2020, an independent evaluation will be conducted on the overall impact of the policy and the benefits accruing for young people, the voluntary youth sector and the wider society.
Youth Work Profession Act

The Youth Work Profession Act 2014 gives formal professional recognition and status to youth workers, as well as regulating the profession and determining the qualifications and conditions under which youth workers can acquire such recognition.

The Act provides for a Youth Work Profession Board that regulates the practice of and eligibility to practise youth work. The Youth Work Profession Board is an independent statutory authority under the provisions of the Act.

The Board promotes professional youth work standards and development and keeps and publishes a register of all recognised and warranted youth workers.

As provided under the Act, the Board also drafted a Code of Professional Ethics for youth workers.

The Act defines youth work as follows:

“Youth work” in Malta is a non-formal learning activity aimed at the personal, social and political development of young people. Youth workers engage with young people within their communities, including the voluntary sector, and support them in realising their potential and address life’s challenges critically and creatively to bring about social change. Youth work takes into account all strands of diversity and focuses on all young people between 13 and 30.
3. Recognition

Youth work is politically and formally recognised through the Youth Work Profession Act 2014. This Act stipulates the requirements to practise youth work in Malta. The Act established the Youth Work Profession Board, which is charged with giving recommendations to the Minister responsible for youth to issue a professional warrant to prospective youth workers.

The validation of any non-formal or informal learning processes is regulated through the National Commission for Further and Higher Education (NCFHE) set up by the Education Act.

The general process of validating informal and non-formal learning (VINFL) consists of:

- identification through dialogue of particular experiences of an individual
- documentation to make visible the individual’s experiences
- formal assessment of these experiences
- certification of the results of the assessment which may lead to a partial or full qualification.
4. Funding youth work

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ receives an annual budget that amounted to €1.11m in 2018. It also derives funding from other sources, primarily from the ERASMUS + programme, that amounted to some €0.2m in 2018.

The voluntary youth sector derives its funds primarily from ERASMUS + through the European Union Programme Agency and other funding schemes from the Council of the Voluntary Sector.
5. Structures, actors and levels in youth work provision

5.1 State structures/public authorities deciding on or providing youth work

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ (the National Youth Agency) was established under the provisions of the Public Administration Act and commenced operations in February 2011 under the Ministry for Education and Employment. Ms Miriam Teuma was appointed as Chief Executive Officer.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ’s mission is:

to mainstream youth-related issues and further develop youth services, programmes and initiatives that help young people achieve their potential; promote and safeguard the interests of young people and manage and implement national youth policy.

Since its establishment in 2010, Aġenzija Żgħażagħ has put in place administrative structures and operational procedures for the promotion and implementation of youth work practice and youth-related services in Malta. The agency’s staff expanded from six in 2011 to 79 (full-time and service contract staff) in 2017.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ’s office and premises at Santa Venera, which it moved into in early 2015, enables it to house most of its staff and services on the one site. The new site also houses the Youth Village, which provides space, facilities and support for young people and youth NGOs to organise events and initiatives. A youth residential centre and a sports facility are also being developed on the site.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ also operates and provides a wide range of programmes, projects and initiatives in youth empowerment, contemporary arts, social drama, literature, local democracy, music, volunteering and support for further study to address and help meet young people’s needs and aspirations. New spaces at local community level for young people have been opened including youth activity centres at Villa Psaigon and Marsaxlokk, youth cafes at Qawra, Msida, Cottonera and Kirkop, and youth hubs in MCAST, Junior College and Giovanni Curmi Higher Secondary School.

A range of support, including financial support and the hiring of equipment and facilities, is also provided by Aġenzija Żgħażagħ for voluntary youth organisations and other organisations working for and with young people.
Outreach and detached youth work services are also being developed, to cater for the needs of socio-economically excluded and hard-to-reach young people, as well as local youth community centres.

An interactive web portal Youth Information Malta was set up in early 2011 and is updated on a regular basis while Kellimni.com provides an online personal support service for young people.

There is a strong focus on engaging with and consulting young people on their views, concerns and aspirations and in promoting their democratic participation and intercultural and social awareness.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ also promotes and supports the development of professional youth work as provided for under the Youth Work Profession Act 2014.

Co-operation at European and international level is also prioritised and promoted. Aġenzija Żgħażagħ represents Malta on the EU Youth Working Party, the twice-yearly Youth Conference and the Council of Europe’s Steering Committee on Youth. The agency also contributes to, participates in and attends other youth-related international fora and events organised by the EU, the Council of Europe, the Commonwealth, the UN and other international organisations.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ is also a member organisation of the European Youth Card Association (EYCA), which offers discounts on a wide range of products and services relating to culture, travel, accommodation, shopping and other services that are of interest to young people. In 2017, there were 6,700 Youth Card holders in Malta.

Structured Dialogue, an EU-wide instrument to actively involve young people in debates and policy-forming dialogue in relation to the European agenda, is also promoted and managed by Aġenzija Żgħażagħ.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ is committed to ongoing research on the lives of young people in Malta and ensuring that youth policy is evidence-based and outcome-focused. The agency has published a number of reports and surveys relating to the lives of young people as well as contributing to the EU Youth report and other international reports.

Youth.inc is an education and learning programme for young people between the ages of 16 and 21 who wish to continue to build on their educational experience and gain more knowledge, values and skills to either enter the labour market or gain qualifications to continue further education and training.

Youth.inc is based on the idea that success can be achieved by young people if they are engaged and motivated to participate actively in an applied learning environment which is practical in its approach. One of the key attractions of this type of learning is that young people are given the opportunity to apply their learning in the context of real life and work situations and challenges.

Youth workers, employed by Aġenzija Żgħażagħ, act as mentors and ensure that the young people on the programme are actively involved in the learning process. The youth workers are also responsible for supervising the validation of the young people’s learning.

Youth.inc is currently offered as a full-time programme over a one- to three-year period at Level 1, Level 2 and Level 3 of the Maltese Qualifications Framework. In 2017/18, 132 young people commenced the programme at Levels 1, 2 and Level 3. Towards 2020, the national youth policy, provides for the following:

Research and Knowledge Building

The government is committed to ensuring that youth policy is evidence-based and outcome-focused. Priority will continue to be given to research as it believes that this provides all those working with and for young people with an invaluable tool and source of relevant and up-to-date information. The research programme for the period 2015-20 will target the main areas that concern young people today such as education (including the digital divide and skills gaps), employment, environment, rights and responsibilities, health and well-being, and justice.

Malta's Presidency of the Council of the European Union

Malta held the presidency of the Council of the European Union for the first time between January and June 2017. In the field of youth, the Maltese Presidency focused on two related and interdependent themes:

- reaching out to and supporting young people, including those at risk of marginalisation – NEETs and young people with a migrant or refugee background – in acquiring essential life skills to strengthen their concept and understanding of democratic life, its rights and responsibilities, and its recognition and respect for cultural diversity; and to ease the transition to adulthood and working life;
- promoting the formal recognition of quality youth work as a means of non-formal learning in acquiring such life skills.

Three significant Council Conclusions and one Council Resolution in the youth field were adopted during the Maltese Presidency:

- Council Conclusions on Investing in Europe’s Youth with particular regard to the European Solidarity Corps;
Council Conclusions on the role of youth work in supporting young people's development of essential life skills to facilitate their transition to adulthood, active citizenship and working life;

Council Conclusions on strategic perspectives for European cooperation in the youth field post 2018

The Youth Conference, which took place in Malta in March 2017, marked the conclusion of the fifth cycle of the Structured Dialogue process under the Presidency Trio of the Netherlands, Slovakia and Malta with the overarching theme of Enabling all young people to engage in a diverse, connected and inclusive Europe – Ready for Life, Ready for Society.

The Maltese Presidency also hosted a number of conferences on youth-related issues:

- The conference on "Youth for Tomorrow's Europe" focused on five main themes: Young Europeans and Identity; Young Europeans and Social Inclusion; Young Europeans and Participation and Leadership; Young Europeans and Sustainable Development; and Young Europeans and Rights and Responsibilities.

- "Beyond and Above", a peer learning activity, focused on how innovative youth work approaches, working with vulnerable young people in particular, can be further recognised and accredited and support young people’s smooth transition to adulthood and working life.

- A "Democracy, youth and sport" seminar focused on cross-sectoral approaches for the active participation and engagement of young people in civic and democratic life through sport and attracted a number of practitioners from across Europe.

Commonwealth

The Commonwealth Youth Forum is held every five years, in parallel with the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM), the last of which was held in Malta in November 2015. The parallel programme is to facilitate and encourage constructive dialogue between young people and heads of government in addressing youth-related issues.

The overall theme of the Youth Forum was “Adding Global Value...#WhatNext?” The Commonwealth YouthCan Network was officially launched on 26 November 2015, following the conclusion of the Commonwealth Youth Forum.

In 2016, the Commonwealth Secretariat planned and implemented a 35-country baseline survey on progress in the recognition of youth work in selected Member States. Malta was one of the 35 Member States of the Commonwealth selected to participate in the baseline survey.
The report of the baseline survey, Youth Work in the Commonwealth – A Growth Profession, was published and presented at the upcoming Commonwealth Youth Ministers’ Meeting in Kampala, Uganda, in August 2017.

In November 2018, Malta hosted "Crosscurrents – Steering a course for youth work as a growth profession in the Commonwealth and in Europe". The conference addressed youth work across the Commonwealth and Europe, examining, connecting and looking to strengthen the status and standard of practice. It also included exploration and discussion of professionalisation, its place, the potential and actual development of its meaning and contextual relevance globally.

Aġenzija Żgħażagħ also organises events for International Youth Day as well as engaging in initiatives that focus on developing young people’s sense of identity and respect for other people’s identities such as the No Hate Speech Campaign and Youth Upbeat.
10. Current debates and open questions/policies on youth work

The present national youth policy, Towards 2020, will soon conclude and a new national youth policy will be developed over the period 2019-2020 with a view to implementing it over the period 2021-2027, to coincide with the new EU Youth Strategy, 2019-2027.
